"It's not the strongest of the species that survives, nor the most intelligent that survives. It is the one that is most adaptable to change" - Charles Darwin.

A report by McKinsey Global Institute from September 2019 with the title, "Future of Asia" states that Asia is increasingly becoming the world's centre and by the year 2040, Asia will account for 52 percent of global GDP in terms of purchasing power parity and 54 percent of global consumption. These projected data figures represent incredible opportunities and challenges related to growth, disruption and innovation.

In the new world, technology and traditions will play a key role in driving change and integrating different aspects of trade and society. This requires professionally trained managers with expertise in technology enabled processes and softer aspects of empathy and collaborative spirit.

K J Somaiya Institute of Management, located in the heart of Mumbai in a beautifully landscaped campus and now part of Somaiya Vidyavihar University (SVU), is in the forefront as a leading business school in India, capable of providing the best inputs to young budding managers.

Testimonial:

My three years with K J Somaiya Institute of Management, during MCA Course had been excellent and a memory to cherish for a lifetime. The faculty members are top class who have designed the course structure in a way which covers more of practical experience enabling us for better understanding of concepts. They have always believed in helping and guiding and it was no different during the most important phase i.e. campus placement. They encourage us at each step thereby helping me secure my placement in a reputed company. It has one of the best infrastructures in Mumbai, well-equipped library books, hostel facilities, etc. The campus was my personal favourite and I'm sure it could be one of the best in the country.
